Rebecca is a Team Leader of the not-for-profit team at Moores.

Rebecca assists clients to establish charitable and other not-for-profit entities. This includes providing advice on eligibility for tax concessions, recommendations on structure, preparing governing documents (such as Constitutions and Rules) and liaising with government regulators.

Rebecca also advises clients with governance issues, including managing the relationship between Boards and their members, understanding governance obligations and disputes. Rebecca's experience also extends to advising clients on restructuring, including migration and moving from federated to national structures.
